

Personal Vision Statement for Andrew Eastham

"A tool to discern God's call that will aid my priorities" – JL

Vision for myself as a child of God. I believe God calls me to...

- Know that I am loved and accepted by Him, a Beloved Son.
- Share Him through the daily relationship and interactions I have with people.
- Seek Him in all situations and to model my life on Jesus's example & teachings.
- Use my gifts and talents, but also my weakness and fallibility in His service.
- Be available to people, to love them and be a sign of the kingdom to all I meet.
- To make regular times to invest in my relationship with God to discern His call on my life.

Vision for me as a husband. I believe that God calls me to...

- Be a loving husband – caring for Laura and supporting her in every aspect of her life.
- Support & enable her spiritual, emotional, physical and mental needs.
- Bring her happiness & joy and closer to God as a result of our union.

Vision of me as a father – I believe that God calls me to...

- Love my children abundantly and generously, making regular time for Josh, Emma & Daniel – being present at the significant points throughout their lives.
- Enable them to grow in their faith, through my example, our church fellowship, through regular times of prayer together.
- Support them and invest in them, to prepare them for their roles in society.

Vision of me as a son – I believe that God calls me to...

- Honour my parents in all that I do and through my interactions with them.
- Contact my parents regularly, to love them through those times, taking an interest in their lives and the issues they face.
- Support them and be there as much as I can be as they grow older – to let them know they are loved.
- To pray for them regularly.

Vision of me as a colleague – I believe that God calls me to...

- Love the people I work with & for, supporting them and taking an interest in their lives, development and welfare.
- Witness through my example, showing integrity, compassion, honesty, empathy & humour to those around me.

Vision of me as a friend – I believe God calls me to...

- Love my friends taking an interest in their lives and well being.
- To be honest and open, sharing myself as well as listening & supporting.
- To have fun, relax & make time to invest in these relationships.

Vision of me as a godfather – I believe God calls me to...

- regularly make contact, pray for and invest in these individuals as much as I can.
