

To live wholeheartedly
and
by teaching,
mentoring &
discipling
to motivate,
inspire & enable
others

The people rejoiced at the willing response of their leaders, for they had given freely and wholeheartedly to the LORD.
1 Chronicles 29:9

	To be wholehearted with God	loving the Lord my God with all my heart, all my soul, all my mind and all my strength; seeking him and his kingdom above all else; to trust and depend; to be wholly his and know him as mine; submitting all to him
---	---	--

and flowing from this to seek to live wholeheartedly:

	in following him	allowing his transformation, redeeming, pruning; letting him shape me in character and personality; trusting him as the master potter, the chief craftsman; trying to live out his challenge to be more vulnerable, less prone to exaggeration, more ready to listen, and more free from anger; living joyfully and lightly and being a witness for him
	with my family	loving and caring for each member and committed to being fully present when with them; in encouraging and praying for Alice & Matt, Chloe & Tom, and Laura as their sister(-in-law) in Christ; in praying for and seeking to witness to Edward, Kristina & Aldous, Tim, Sam & Emily, Alex & Lynn, Dad & Pauline; and in my wider family to seek to share Christ's love, light and salvation...
	in my friendships	to serve them and love them as Jesus served and loved his friends and to hope that through prayer and faithfulness Rhiannon, Steven, James, Shelly and Charlotte might open their hearts to Jesus; and that out of true fellowship and intimacy Bex, Jen, Jenny, Han, Beck, Jo and I might all be companions on this journey, blessing and being blessed through each other
	in ministry and leadership	using the gifts the Lord has given me in his ministry and in training for ministry; engaging with those I might meet along the way and seeing how his kingdom might come for them; enjoying the journey and all it might hold, even counting the cost; doing what I see him doing and going where I hear him calling and how this might draw me nearer to him and might work out in practice; being faithful in prayer, focused in vision, loving those for whom I am responsible, growing and develop others, to engage with Scripture and help others to do so, to communicate God's work, heart and purposes; to use my gifts of wisdom, pastoring and administration in service of him and of others
